

This week's parshah, Tetzaveh, tells us some more about the going-ons of the Mishkan (משכן).

The first thing discussed (מדובר) is the olive oil used for the lighting (הדלקת) of the menorah. Aharon and his sons must take pure olive oil and every evening light the menorah.

Next is discussed the special (מיוחד) clothing (ביגוד) that the Cohanim would wear (ילבשו).

The Cohanim are the priests (כהן)—the children (ילדים) and descendants (צאצאים) of Aharon—who did the services (שרות) in the Mishkan and then later in the Beit Hamikdah (the Temple) in Jerusalem. When they were in the Mishkan performing (מקיימים) their services (טקסים), such as bringing a sacrifice (מזבח), or lighting the menorah, or taking the Mishkan down and putting it back up again. You can imagine (לדמין) how regal (מלכותי) the Cohanim looked (נראו) when they were doing their holy work in the mishkan, wearing their special clothes.

The Cohen Gadol—the "High Priest," the Cohen who did the most important work, the first one being Aharon—had to wear four extra garments: 5.

After describing the Cohanim special clothing, God than tells Moses how to officially (רשמית) initiate Aharon and his sons as Cohanim. They have to stand outside of the mishkan with a bull (פר) that will be offered (הועלה לקורבן) as a sacrifice (זֶבַח) Moses will then put on Aharon his eight garments (בגדים/ציפוי) and pour some "anointing oil" on his head. Then Aharon's sons will put on their clothing. They will then officially be Cohanim and can begin their service in the Mishkan. From here on, all their children will be Cohanim forever. The last thing in the Parshah is instructions for how to build the golden altar (מזבח הזהב).
